Alan.
Well now that your finally a senior, don't forget the rest of us that still have a few years left in this damn place! But have fun this year and leave this school something to remember. We haven't gotten the chance to talk to each other much until just lately, I hope we can get to know each other better! Good luck always and stay out of trouble (but then who ever does?)
Friends
always,
Nish
P.S. keep partying, only the only way to go! Can & cute too!

Alan,
So a really sweet guy who is A-1 in math! HA! I hope you succeed in everything you do. In want to believe your actually a senior, isn't it?
I can't wait till
I get up there!
Well, good luck in everything, & have fun your senior year, RAISE HELL!

a friend always,

Seniors Show Leadership

The 1982 Senior Class could be summed up in one single word, "Awesome." For the first time in Northwest history, athletes made more trips to State, class members provided more spirit and leadership, art students contributed more talent to school productions, and, in spite of all this, they still maintained good grade point averages.

Seniors went through several fads and major events from video games to Smurfs. The crisis in Poland made them more aware of the world around them and the "at home" unemployment dampened Seniors' anticipation of their May 16 Independence.

Journalism More Than Just a Class

To some people journalism simply means putting together the school yearbook and publishing the newspaper, but journalism is more than that. It takes a lot of sticktoitiveness, dedication, and pure craziness to cope with the difficulties that arise throughout the year. If it wasn't for our patient advisor, Marti Oakeson, who put up with stupid jokes and dumb excuses for unfinished or unstarted copy, the yearbook would never have been completed, and the newspaper would never have met one deadline

Also supporting the editors were the reporters, the photographer, and the money-makers. Without them nothing could have been accomplished since a competent staff was needed to obtain copy, pictures, and financing. Although the reporters may have complained about having to rewrite and retype copy five or six times, or the photographer had to retake and redevelop pictures again and again, the Journalism, however, would have been incomplete without Hermie, the pet, plastic, potted palm plant. He withstood numerous fire, tornado, earthquake, and mud slide drills, Christmas decorations complete with lights and snow, and several severe beatings from the editors. His stamina and perseverance was an inspiration to the entire staff

THIS YEAR the Journalism Department was really outstanding in their field

Drama Club Keeps Busy Year 'round

Drama Club enthusiastically started this year with the fall play "Good-bye My Fancy". The club then sold patches during the football games to raise money for the various field trips planned for the year.

During the middle of the year, the one act play "The Girl in the Mirror" was performed by six club members. The play went to Districts in Kearney where it received an excellent rating, but placed eighth in over all competition. In March the club put on a Sadie Hawkins Dance. Students were urged to dress up like hillbillies to add to the festivities.

Members also traveled to Lincoln to watch "A Midsummer Nights Dream." The play was performed by "The Acting Company", which travels throughout the United States. Other activities members participated in were a candy drive and a tug-o-war contest during "the battle of the best".

Speech teacher Evleyn Nikkel helps students polish their gestures before a contest.

The Kissing Bandit is on the loose and Tracey Trynchy chuckles at the fact that Gregg Merkell got caught.

Clara Tande and Amy Chapman provide an eerie atmosphere in the one-act play production of "The Girl in the Mirror".

Speech Club had an exciting if not busy year. Contestants traveled to speech contests in Loup City, Hastings, Central City, Kearney, Seward, and also competed in three contests in Grand Island.

For the first time it was possible for members to earn a letter. The requirement for a letter was participation in a minimum of five contests presenting at least two different types of speeches. Letter-winners this year were Kathy Dreher, Kris Luhn, and Dave Rosenkotter. The letters were designed by Kim Gates, an active Drama member.

In April, Kathy Dreher took her "After Dinner" speech on Camp Counseling to State where she placed eighth in the competition.

Speech Members Compete to Achieve Letters

An "After Dinner" speech about the perils of being a camp counselor won a trip to State for Kathy Dreher.

F.B.L.A. Demonstrates Business Sense

Future Business Leaders of America (F.B.L.A.) is an organization that believes everyone should be actively involved in creating a better social, political, community, and family life.

FBLA held many activities throughout the year. They participated in the Fall Officer Workshop in York. The Officer Training Program included special sessions for local officers, news reporters, advisors, and parliamentarians.

The group also took a field trip to the Nebraska Law Enforcement Training Center in Grand Island, attended the State Leadership Conference held on April 29, 30, and May 1, and sold acrylics for Christmas.

February 7-14 was FBLA week and the week's activities included an after-school poster party, bowling and pizza, a field trip to the University of Nebraska in Lincoln where the group visited the Capitol, and a Blue and Gold Day.

Distributive Education Clubs of America (D.E.C.A.) had another busy year. They did everything from having fund raisers, to attending workshops and conferences, to co-sponsoring a dance with the Student Council. Some of the items used to raise funds this year were black and gold Spirit Hands and cheese and sausage.

This year marked the fifth annual Powderpuff football game between D.E.C.A. members and Northwest cheerleaders and Vixettes. The D.E.C.A. Demons lost the battle to the Spirit Raisers with a score of 8-6.

Members also attended conferences in Chicago, Kearney, and Seward so that they might advance their knowledge of marketing. At the State Conference in Lincoln, Gary Meyer received a first place in Service Station Marketing, and Tracey Schmitz received a third place in Apparel and Accessories. Ranita Valasek was elected District V Vice President.

Language Clubs Explore Foreign Worlds

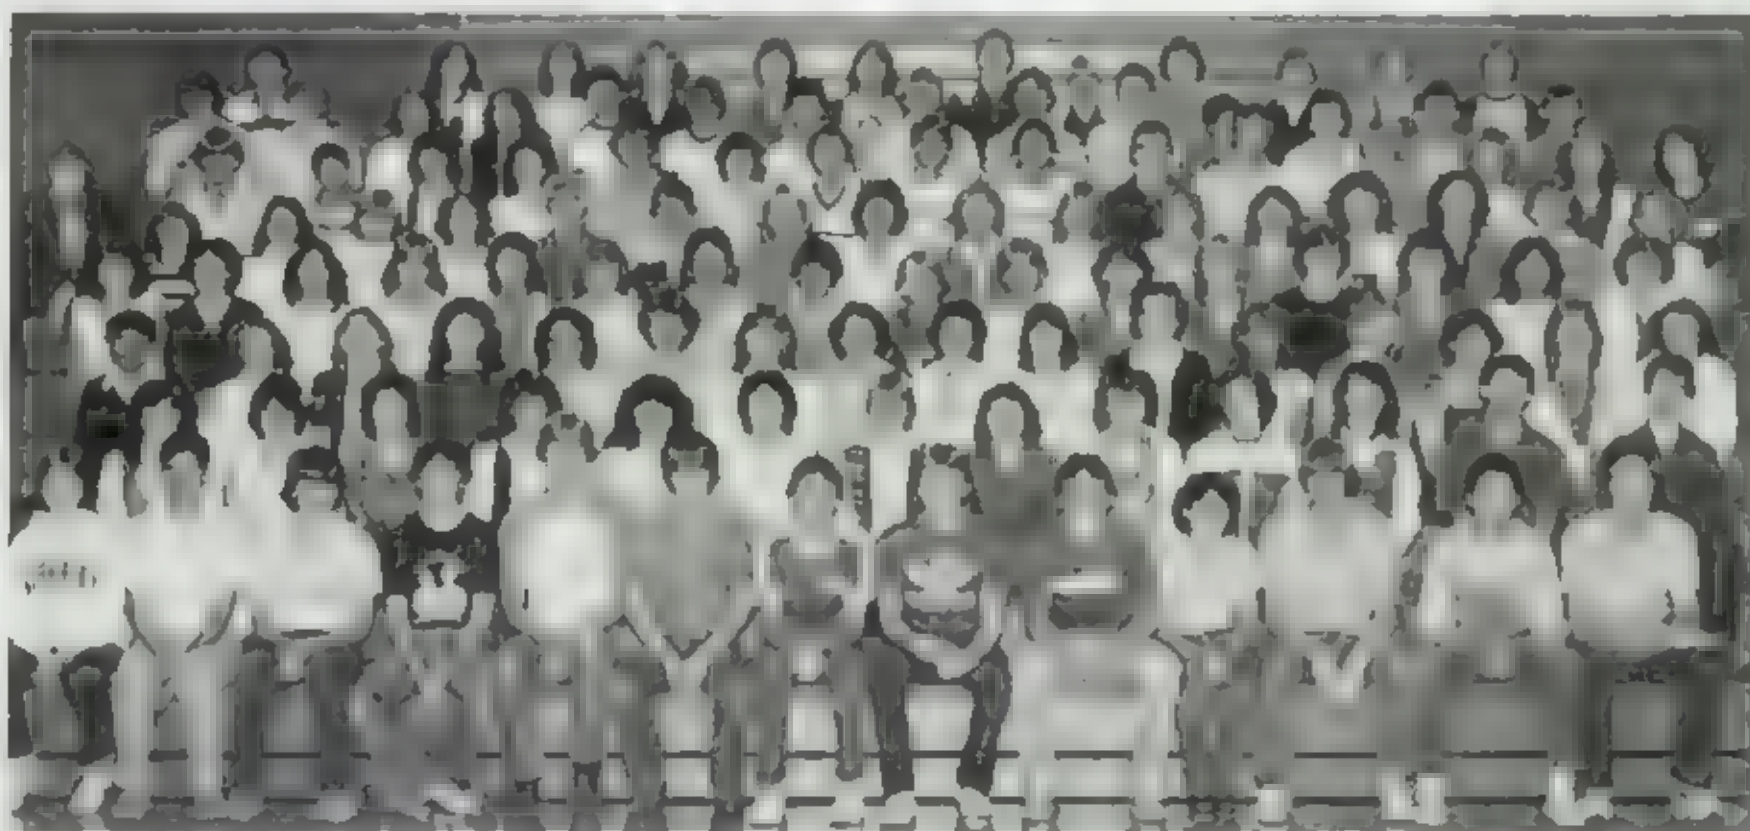

The German Club began planning for a trip to Germany last September. In order to raise money for expenses they held a car wash in the spring and washed dishes after a Christmas dinner at a local church.

It is through the American Institute for Foreign Study that students visit foreign countries. Eighteen people made the trip to Germany from the Northwest area. Mrs. Wilma Stevens, German Club sponsor, and her daughter also toured the German countryside.

The group departed on June 28 for Frankfurt, Germany. Their nine day journey took them through old castles, on a cruise down the Rhine, on scenic drives through the Swiss and Austrian Alps, and on a guided tour of Munich which included a visit to the Olympic Stadium.

Due to the rainy spring weather the annual German and Spanish Clubs' Latin Olympics had to be canceled this year.

JAANA LEINONEN AND LOLO WIDMARK, Northwest's two foreign exchange students, read the Homecoming issue of the Saga. Jaana is from Finland and enjoyed attending the Friday night football games while staying in the United States. She said she would rather stay here in the Midwest because it's "not so much of a place for tourists." Lolo, who is from Sweden, participated in volleyball, basketball, and the musical.

FFA Activities Bring Rewards

The Northwest Future Farmers of America (FFA) Chapter began their year by attending a convention in Kansas City, Missouri, where they viewed the many sights and attended a special vespers session held in honor of Veteran's Day. In March, they earned ribbons at state and district competitions by using basic farm skills in working with foods and animals.

At their banquet in April, new officers were installed and awards were given for public and extemporaneous speaking, beef, swine, sheep, and diversified livestock production; and management of poultry and forrests. An award was also presented to the outstanding first year member.

FFA is sponsored by Mr. John Dolniczek. Officers were Rich Panowicz, President; Mark Moeller, Vice President; Dan Kruse, Secretary; Clayton Stelk, Treasurer; Darryl Meier, Sentinel; Ron Kuta, Parliamentarian; and Lynn Weigert, Reporter.

In November, six members of the Northwest FFA Chapter attended the National FFA Convention in Kansas City, Missouri.

Future Homemakers of America (F.H.A.) is made up of students from the Home Economics, Child Care, and Adult Living classes. Although F.H.A. members spent much of their time at conventions and workshops, they also managed to stay active in their local chapter.

Candy was sold after school to raise money for the National Headquarters Building Fund Drive. F.H.A. also sold "Apples with a Message".

During April F.H.A. members who were in Child Care were required to carry an egg, representing a baby, with them at all times for several days. Penalties were handed out to any mother whose egg was broken or showed signs of child abuse and neglect.

On April 29 the annual Honor and Recognition Award Banquet was held. Angel Birkes received the Outstanding Membership Award for consistent leadership, hard work, and complete dedication.

Student Life Keeps Council Busy

Student Council members kept themselves busy by planning activities with students and faculty to help build Pride at Northwest

This years officers were President, Lori Heins; Vice President, Shane Redwine; and Secretary, Theresa Oakeson. These students along with the other student council representatives attended a clinic in Kearney earlier in the school year to learn more about their duties and responsibilities

The Student Council also helped out the community by donating twenty-five dollars to the Christmas Cheer Fund. This money is part of the proceeds from the Punk Rock Dance which they sponsored. Other activities that Student Council participated in were putting up a student bulletin board, getting a student suggestion box, and setting up a Leadership Scholarship worth one hundred dollars

The National Honor Society, sponsored by Miss Linda Harris, took an active role in the Grand Island community this year. They labored to help relocate Goodwill and to paint the bathhouses at Pier Park.

At Christmas time they caroled and sent "Santa" around school to pass out candy. Halls were decorated with Christmas snow, trees, and mistletoe.

March was their month for candy sales and part of the money they raised went to the Nancy Lassin Memorial Fund. In April, Northwest Honor Society students and Student Council representatives joined the other Grand Island school representatives for a Leadership Banquet where they feasted on pizza and listened to various speakers.

President Kim Mott led the morning meetings that took place once a month. Other officers were Vice-President Mike Cumming and Secretary-Treasurer Nancy Mader.

Fellowship of Christian Athletes (F.C.A.) is "a place for all athletes to share their experiences with God and become closer to Him" according to Julie Bauer, Vice-President of Girls F.C.A.

During the Christmas season the Girls F.C.A., under the sponsorship of Miss Ellen Warner, spread good cheer by decorating a Christmas tree and placing it in the courtyard of the school.

As Prom time rolled around, the Girls F.C.A. sold corsages and boutonnieres. The money which was earned was used to send Mindy Roby, Tracy Dennhardt, Luey Shultz, and Michelle Keeshan to an F.C.A. Convention in Fort Collins, Colorado.

This year, the female members of F.C.A. attended the movie Chariots of Fire.

Meetings for both Girls and Boys F.C.A. members were held on Wednesday evenings and the members took turns preparing the lesson for each meeting.

Although the Boys F.C.A. was not quite as active, they held many important meetings. According to Mr. Rick Hook, sponsor, "It was the largest group since we've started F.C.A. at Northwest. During a meeting, everyone participated; it didn't matter what age."

Letterwinners Spell Pride

Letterwinners is a special group of students who have worked long and hard to become the best they could become in a particular sport, and yet, at the same time, remember that the team always comes before the individual. They have always provided the heart of Northwest athletic squads.

An Athletic letter is awarded to a person after a sport's season when that individual has played a specified amount of time in each game or has been recommended by coaches for an exceptional performance on or off the playing field.

This year, the letter winners, through money they raised in concessions, bought a new hip sled for the weight room.

President John Haubold provided continuous team support this year when he led cheers at basketball games. Other officers were: Rob Falldorf, Vice President; Kelly Mendyk, Secretary, and Coach Tom Hill was sponsor.

GIVE ME A V... V Give me a I... I Give me a K... K Give me an E... E Give me a S... S

The 1981-82 cheerleaders provided the football, volleyball, basketball, and wrestling teams with tremendous support not only during the regular season but also during district and state competitions.

But cheers and stunts weren't the whole story behind that support. They bought streamers and painted posters to decorate gyms and stands whether the Vikings were playing at home or away. By selling spirit ribbons and raffling cakes at basketball halftimes, they were able to finance such activities as the Homecoming Dance in October.

Rigorous summer practicing helped them earn ribbons for excellence, super stunts, outstanding entrances and exits, giving 110 percent of their energy, and the second place trophy at the ICF clinic at Doane College.

The Squad was led by captain Melissa Anderson and sponsored by Mrs. Lou Gil-

Vikettes Add Style to Games

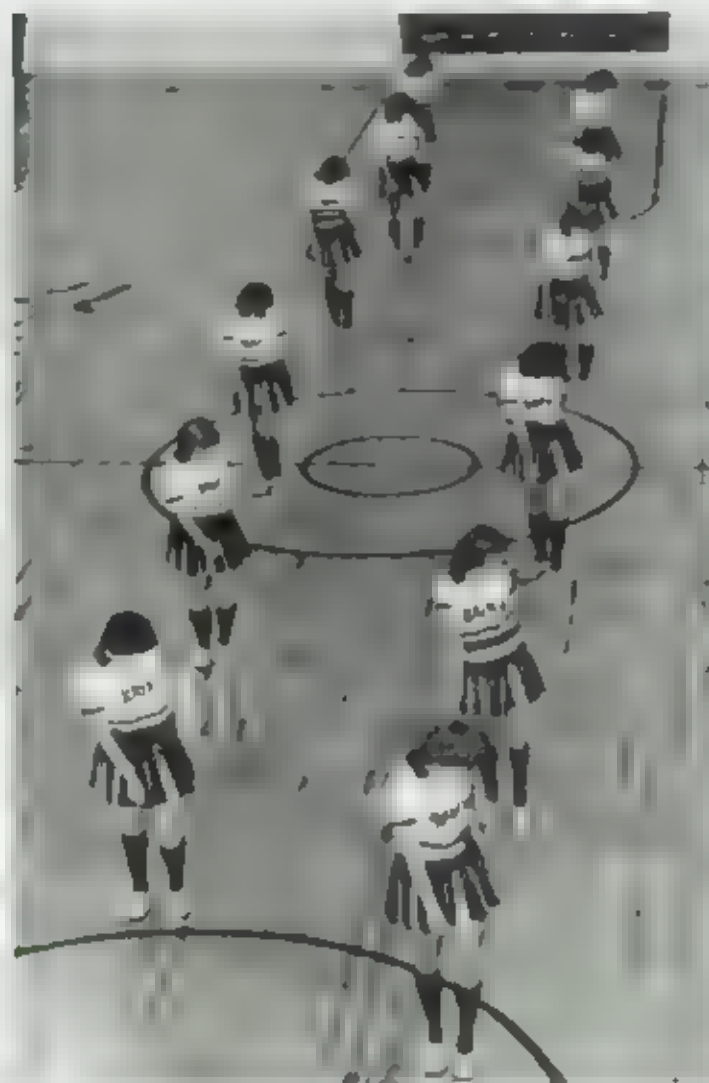

The Northwest Varsity Vikettes busily prepared for performances by practicing very hard during the year.

During the summer they placed third in final competition and first for home routine at the Doane College Clinic. They marched in the Shrine Bowl, Harvest of Harmony, and the Wayne State College Parades.

The Vikettes kept the beat as they performed to many songs at Football and Basketball games. A new look was added to the Vikettes as they switched to flags during Football games. The climax for this year's Vikettes was performing as Flappers to "Big Spender" and the "Woodchoppers Ball", and performing at Girls and Boys State Basketball.

The Vikettes participated in other activities during the year such as sponsoring the Winter Sports Dance, helping with Pep Rallies, playing in the Powder Puff Football game, and holding the Raffle-A-Date.

The definition of a JV Vikette would probably be "A hard-working individual willing to give up practically every waking hour to whatever cause may arise." There are sixteen JV Vikette members. These individuals try out and are chosen for the squad at the beginning of each school year.

The JV Vikettes contributed hard work and creativity to every varsity football and basketball game by preparing the hoops for the boys to run through. These girls are also required to attend every home varsity basketball game and cheer with the Vikettes and cheerleaders.

Hot Lunch Jam "Red Light," "I've Done Everything For You," and "Tonight I'm Yours" were just a few of the songs chosen by captains Kris Fusby and Becky Dubas for the Northwest Junior Varsity Vikettes to perform to this year. Choir Groups Provide Harmony

A Cappella started its year by sending nine students to Hastings for All-State tryouts on October 5 with five of them qualifying: Robert Beckman, Lisa Bredthauer, Kim Gates, Lisa Kozisek, and Janice Roth.

As a choir, A Cappella participated in the Christmas concert at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, at a clinic with Grand Island Senior High, at the Chamber of Commerce Banquet, at the FHA Convention, and in their final concert in March. In May four ensembles — Girl's Trio, Girl's Triple Trio, Mixed Octet, and Barbershop Quartet — and two soloists — Kim Gates and Wendee Zahn participated in District Music Contest held in Kearney, Nebraska.

Each year the Boys and Girls Chorus holds an all day clinic with Gothenburg. This year the clinic and the concert were held at Northwest in March. The Sophomore Chorus also took part in the annual Christmas and Spring Concerts.

students sold spices and spice racks to earn money for their last production of the year. After months of preparing sets, selling advertisements, collecting props, and practicing lines, dance steps, and songs, the choirs presented this year's "finale", "Funny Girl". Before each performance, they were "psyched up" by the traditional "get down and squeeze them adrenal glands" led by A Cappella President, Kim Gates.

Choirs Become "Ambassadors of Northwest"

Mrs. Lou Gilmore, the director of "18 Karat Gold", felt that the members of swing choir were "Ambassadors of Northwest" and were a unified group in many ways

Throughout the year, the 21 juniors and seniors stayed busy getting ready for various programs by attending early morning practices. Their programs included assemblies at Northwest, performing at feeder schools and various Grand Island churches, participating in the Bosses Night for Professional Business Women's Association and the Downtown Trade Commission, and delivering singing Christmas Cards. The highlight of the year was participating at the District Music Contest in Kearney where they received a one for singing and choreography

Mrs. Gilmore felt that this year's freshman group was an exceptional one with many strong leaders. The freshmen learned how to stand up in front of people and perform with confidence. Techniques became clearer as the year progressed. They performed at all the Vocal concerts and at Eighth Grade Orientation.

New Formation and Flag Corps Add Sparkle

Viking Band members added flare to their half time football performances with a new style — Drum and Bugle Corps Marching. The Vikettes contributed their talent to this new look as a flag corps.

Jazz Band was another new added feature. It met and practiced many mornings before school and performed at numerous home basketball games. As members of Jazz Band, Shelley Stueven, Jeff Taback, and Steve Heider played the National Anthem before the games.

Parades played a big part in the band's year. The band marched in the Shrine Bowl, Wayne State College parade, and co-hosted the Harvest of Harmony Parade in Grand Island.

Officers were President, Sharon Eriksen; Vice President, Luey Shultz; Secretary, Theresa Oakeson; senior representative, JuDean Lenners; junior representative, Deb Keil; and sophomore representative, Pam Meier.

Senior Members Led the Way To a Great Year

Enthusiasm and leadership were a big part of the Northwest Viking Band this year, and senior band members provided both. Outstanding Senior Girl Sharon Eriksen and Outstanding Senior Boy Dan Spencer led the way to a great year. Majorette Nancy Mader and Vikette Captains Theresa Oakeson and Sharon Eriksen supervised the half-time football performances and spent many long hours perfecting the flag routines. It was the senior's experience that helped to shape the band's new Drum and Bugle Corps style of marching. This, along with pep talks and other forms of encouragement, helped keep band spirits high. Overall their leadership held the band together and guided it to a very successful year.

Parade Marks 40th Year

Through rain, sleet, bitter cold, and even snow, the Viking Band has always marched faithfully through the streets of Grand Island in the annual Harvest of Harmony Parade.

This year, under the direction of Mr. Charles Irick, Band Instructor, and Nancy Mader, Student Director, the band added a little zest to the old routine by marching in a diamond pattern instead of the traditional square.

This year's Harvest of Harmony Hostess, Lori Hains, led the Viking Band. The day before her appearance in the parade, Lori attended various activities and a banquet dinner.

Homecoming is "Country Love"

When thinking of Homecoming, one might think of football games, pep rallies, dances, and "Country Love."

The theme "Country Love" was chosen for the 1981 Homecoming dance which followed a 15-3 victory over Central City. Haybales, wagon wheels, and pitchforks contributed to the "Country Love" scene.

Duane Meyer provided "Complete Music" with the combination of country and western hits and popular tunes.

JuDean Lenners and Kirk Berggren were selected as Homecoming Royalty. Their attendants were Chris Becker and Todd Olson. Sharon Erksen and Larry Brannagan.

"Time" and Laughter

Mrs. Evelyn Nikkel, the new Director of Drama at Northwest High School, made her directing debut in the play "Goodbye My Fancy." She directed 17 students through two months of hard practice to prepare them for opening night.

The play centers on Agatha Reed who returns to her college during Commencement Weekend to receive an honorary degree. While there, she confronts and resolves old relationships with the college President, Dr. James Merrill, and "Time" photographer Matt Cole. Merrill and Cole are competitors for Agatha's affection. Other complications add both humor and common sense to the plot.

ELLEN GRISWOLD AND AGATHA REED, previous college buddies, are finally reunited after 20 years of long separation.

ELLEN GRISWOLD (CLARE TANDE), in an inebriated state, listens attentively as her husband Claude (Todd Mitchell), argues politics with Dr. Merrill (Dave Rosenkotter).

"Ice Castles" Becomes Reality

"Ice Castles" was the theme chosen by the Vikes for the annual Winter Sports Dance held on January 8, 1982. "Knights of the Turntable" provided a variety of music and special lighting effects.

A winter scene of light blue, silver, and navy blue provided the setting for the crowning of the Royalty which took place on the drawbridge of the Ice Castle. Ken Brand and Theresa Oakeson were crowned King and Queen. Attendants to the Royalty were Ron Maas, Cindy Quandt, Dave Sims, and Rhonda Grosch. Production Well Done

On May 6, 7, and 9 the Northwest Vocal Music Department put their talents on stage as they presented the musical Funny Girl under the direction of Mrs. Lou Gilmore. Mrs. Wilma Stevens headed the make-up crew, Mr. Charles Irick conducted the Orchestra, and Mr. Ken Bassett designed the sets.

Kim Gates portrayed Fanny Brice whose main goal is to become a star in the Ziegfeld Follies. On her way to becoming a success, she falls in love, marries, and eventually loses Nick Arnstein (Greg Mora).

Funny Girl had a large cast of sixty students from both A Cappella and Girls' and Boys' Chorus.

OUTSIDE THE KEENEY MUSIC HALL, Heckie (Brad Richards) and the workmen (Raymond Peterson and Scott Harness) predict Fanny's failure in show business.

IN A REPRISÉ TO "IF A GIRL ISN'T PRETTY", the Keeney Girls (Angie Nispel, Sara Klein, Becky Dubas, and Beth Anderson) and Eddie Ryan (Doug Scholtz) tell Fanny that she should forget performing and try something else.

Spirit Boosters Cheer Along With Students

The Northwest Boosters Club certainly lived up to its name by actively supporting the students of Northwest. One of the functions of the Boosters is to raise money to supplement all school athletic programs. Some of their fund raising projects included the printing and selling of programs at all home athletic events, the selling of black and gold sweaters and jackets, and the selling of raffle tickets.

Boosters Club's enthusiasm spread throughout the entire community when they sponsored a pep rally the night before Homecoming. The evening came to a close as everyone gathered around a huge bonfire to see the flaming letters NHS.

The 1981-82 sports year was capped off by Boosters Club's annual Athletic Banquet which is held to honor all athletes involved in the Northwest sports program. John Meiton of the University of Nebraska was the guest speaker.

The May 3 Honors Convocation was held in the Learning Center to recognize those students who attended school daily and those who put forth extra effort to achieve good grades.

Certificates were awarded to students for perfect attendance and honor roll. Those who showed leadership and took time to care about their futures were presented with spirit awards and scholarships. Gary Aurand was presented the University of Nebraska Regents Scholarship.

The top ten percent of the senior class were recognized and given gold medals for their hard work and determination. The top ten percent are Sharon Eriksen, Sheri Hongsermeier, Gary Aurand, Theresa Oakeson, Nancy Mader, Teri Jacobsen, Jody Andringa, Paula Pistulka, Mike Cumming, Deb Stark, DeAnn Sandman, Todd Schmitz, Leslie Smith, and Joni Bishop. In the evening these students were honored at a banquet hosted by the Chamber of Commerce.

"Sweet Dreams" was the theme for this year's Junior-Senior Prom. The Liederkrantz was decorated in rainbow colors with moons, stars, hearts, and a rainbow to add a sparkling touch to the atmosphere.

The band "Flight" was the evening's entertainment. They provided a combination of rock, disco, and slow music.

Larry Brannagan and Sharon Eriksen were elected King and Queen by the Junior class while Todd Olson, Dave Sims, Kris Roby, and Teri Helgoth acted as attendants.

Chris Eberhardt, Jodi Henrichson, Steve Lamb, and Brenda Dalton functioned as sophomore servers for the memorable event.

Dreams of Tomorrow

High school days are filled with friends, activities, dreams, and memories. For 127 seniors, the dream of graduation became reality on Sunday, May 16, 1982.

The Reverend R.L. Klein gave the Baccalaureate and Commencement Address, Invocation, and Benediction. The class motto "Today We Prepare For Our Dreams Of Tomorrow" was used in the Valedictorian Address given by Sharon Eriksen. Class President Larry Brannagan presided over the Turning of the Tassles ritual and presented the 1982 Class — "The Class with Class".

Though their high school days have ended, their future dreams have only begun.

Girls contribute to success of Cross Country

Pride ran deep in the "soles" of the Viking Harriers as they captured many well-earned victories over tough competition. Both Cross Country teams placed as top finishers in several meets, including Conference and Districts. And for the first time, both boys and girls ran in the state competition.

At the Kearney Invitational, the boys' team finished second behind Lexington. Roger Knight and Todd Miles placed out of 56 runners. The girls finished fifth with Janet Meyer placing in the top ten.

After only the first season of Cross Country action, the girls aimed for the best as they took both Conference and District titles which then qualified the team for the State meet.

Girls placing in the top ten at Districts were Janet Meyer, Tracy Dennhardt, and Luey Shultz. State running was a new experience for the Lady Vikes, but they were not hindered in their first attempt as their team finished ninth.

New Image Was Stressed: Teamwork

The Northwest Volleyball Team ended their 1981 season with a record of 13-6. Although the season looked promising, the girls fell to defeat in their last outing.

The Lady Vikes used their talent and skill to win the Litchfield Tournament. In their first round of action, the Vikes defeated Ravenna in two sets. The last two days of the tournament, the Viking team showed their spirit by taking first place. Northwest beat Pleasanton, giving them the opportunity to participate in the finals. Next the Vikes were up against highly-regarded Central Catholic and dominated the first set. Unfortunately, the second set was a different story when the Lady Vikes were defeated. But in the third round of action, they outlasted the Crusaders.

Going into Conferences the Vikings had a 12-3 record. Winning their first round of action, they played Schuyler

Young Talent Adds Success to Viking Squad

Ellen Warner's Junior Varsity Volleyball team ended a very successful season with a modest record of 6-4, but don't let the win-loss column fool anyone. The experience and teamwork gained was the biggest victory for the young Vikings.

Coach Warner always encouraged the J.V. team to play to their fullest potential and even when a game was lost, she said that the team "should always feel good about it if they played to the best of their ability.

Consistent starters were Deb Keil, Mindy Roby, Tracy Schade, Stacie Spiehs, Angie Enevoldsen, and Denise Sadler, but the bench strength was important and every individual had the opportunity to improve her skills in a game situation. Team Effort Captures Prize: State Trophy

The ultimate goal of any athlete is to be number one in his respective sport. 1981-82 was the year of the Vikings on the grid iron as they captured the Class B title.

The Vikings finished the regular season 8-1. Their only loss was to the Aurora Huskies the third game of the season. Their first play-off game was an impressive win over undefeated Kimball 36-13; then they stunned a state power, Lincoln Pius X, 41-0. But the icing on the cake was when the Vikings met Aurora in the finals and blasted them 55-0, a class record for most points scored in a single play-off game.

The Northwest Vikings captured the State Championship and, in the process, broke or tied 12 different individual and team state records.

One super stater, Todd Olson, and all staters, Kirk Berggren, Ron Maas, and David Sims, were honored from Northwest in area papers.

WE ARE THE CHAMPIONS ... and convincingly so as the Vikings made perhaps the most convincing bid for the state championship in football history. Northwest defeated Kimball, Pius X and Aurora while on their way to number one.

A WINNING COMBINATION. Reuss blocks for ball carrier Berggren in the finals of the State playoffs against rival Aurora.

A host of Vikings received all-conference honors: Kirk Berggren, Jeff Boeka, Larry Brannagan, Ron Maas, Tom Mattingly, and Todd Olson.

The Vikings finished the season 11-1, first place in class B and fifth place state wide.

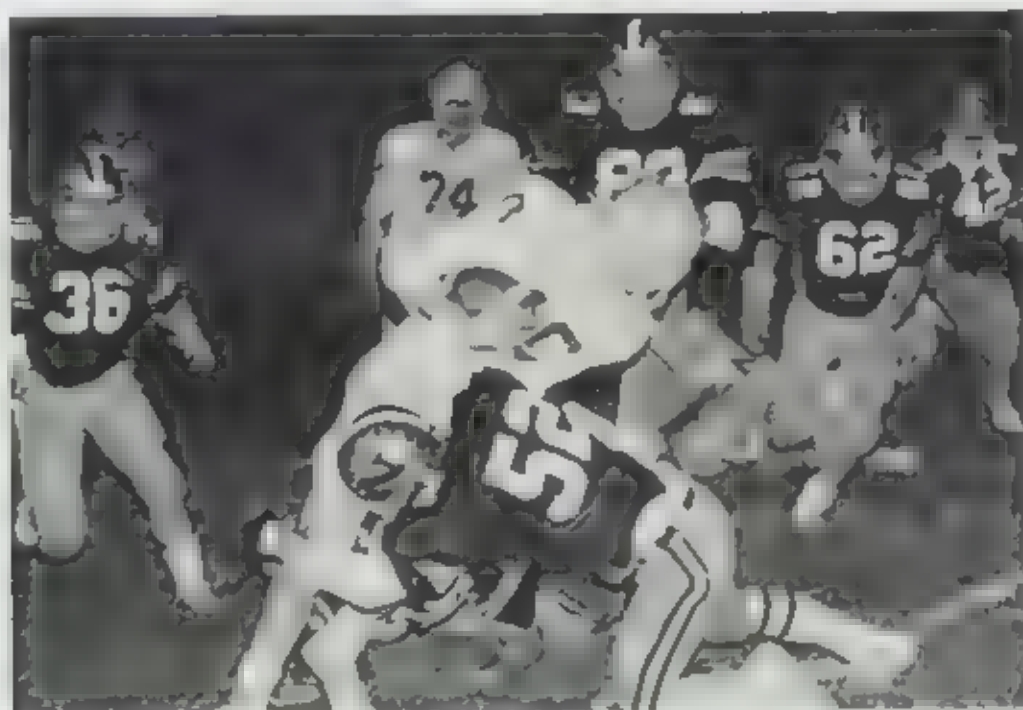

Some of the Vikings will graduate and some will be back next year, yet none of the 81-82 team will forget an experience such as this

A Challenge Was Made and Met

It took a lot of individual dedication by players and coaches alike to put together a season like the Northwest football squad had this year.

Summer weight training and conditioning began in June and continued until the first week of practice. The August sun was hot, yet the weather was the least of the Viking's worries as they approached their first game of the season against sixth ranked Holdrege.

But the Vikes had prepared well and they surprised the Dusters 20-0. They then went on to beat Ord the following week 28-0. After their victory over Ord, Northwest moved up to second in the area ratings in Class B only to stumble against Aurora on Friday. But they rebounded and continued on to win the rest of their regular season games including victories over Central City, Gothenburg, York, Adams Central, Fairbury, and Albion. The Vikings had won their district with a season record of 8-1 and were headed for the play-offs.

It was now November and the team had to contend with the cold November wind instead of the summer heat, but the Vikings weren't ready to end the season just qualifying for State — they wanted to win.

The challenge was made and the challenge was met. The Vikings defeated Kimball, Pius XI, and Aurora to become the 1981 Class B Champs, a first in Northwest's history.

J.V. and Frosh: Looking at Tomorrow's Stars

One of the greatest assets in any sport is experience, and the Junior Varsity and Freshmen strive to learn from their season those things that will benefit them for the future. Because today's J.V.'s and Freshmen are tomorrow's varsity stars, what they achieve this year can only help them improve if they apply it to working towards a higher level of competition and success.

Although the J.V. team ended its season with a record of 2-3, they showed vast improvement during the season. They were successful in a win over Class A Hastings 14-7 and two of their losses came to Class A Senior High. Their tough competition readied the J.V. team for even bigger opponents on the varsity level.

This year's freshman team showed great potential with an outstanding season, ending with a record of 7-0. Head Coach Norm Hayes commented, "The team was hard-working and dedicated." At the end of the year, the team voted on individual honors. Jeff Smith was voted most valuable player and offensive leader; Ken Maxwell was defensive leader; most improved player was Mike Leaman, and team captains were Dave Keil and Mike Brannagan.

This year's work by the J.V.'s and Freshmen not only was for their immediate goals of a successful season, but for a goal in the future on the varsity level

Hard Work Makes Dream Reality

The Girls' Varsity Basketball squad captured the Class B State Title and brought home the Viking's second State Championship trophy of the year.

The Lady Vikings took on the Minden Whippets in the first round of the tournament at the Bob Devaney Sports Center in Lincoln. Minden, a familiar foe for Northwest, was defeated by the Vikes 43-31.

In the semi-finals the girls met up with undefeated North Bend. North Bend had been averaging sixty points per game until they met the tenacious 1-3-1 defense of Northwest. The final score saw Northwest defeat North Bend 38-31 and the Vikings were on their way to the finals of the State tournament.

In the finals against Sidney, who also was averaging sixty points a game, the Vikings jumped out to an early first quarter lead, 10-0. But Sidney was persistent and began to close the gap on the Viking's advantage, finally taking the

It took the efforts of twelve hard-working girls, and the inspiration of Coach Schultz and Coach Vertin to finally make the dream of a State Championship a reality

Rough Start Ends With Victories

Most people remember how a team does at the end of the season, not what it did when the season started

For the Lady Vikes, it was a tough start on a road that finally led to success in the state tournament. They lost two of the first three games: one to Kearney, who later became the Class A champ and one to rival, Aurora. The low point of the season came when the girls took a very disappointing loss to Lexington. Coach Barry

Schultz feels that the early season losses helped emphasize the need for teamwork, which, was a big factor in the girls' play at the state tournament

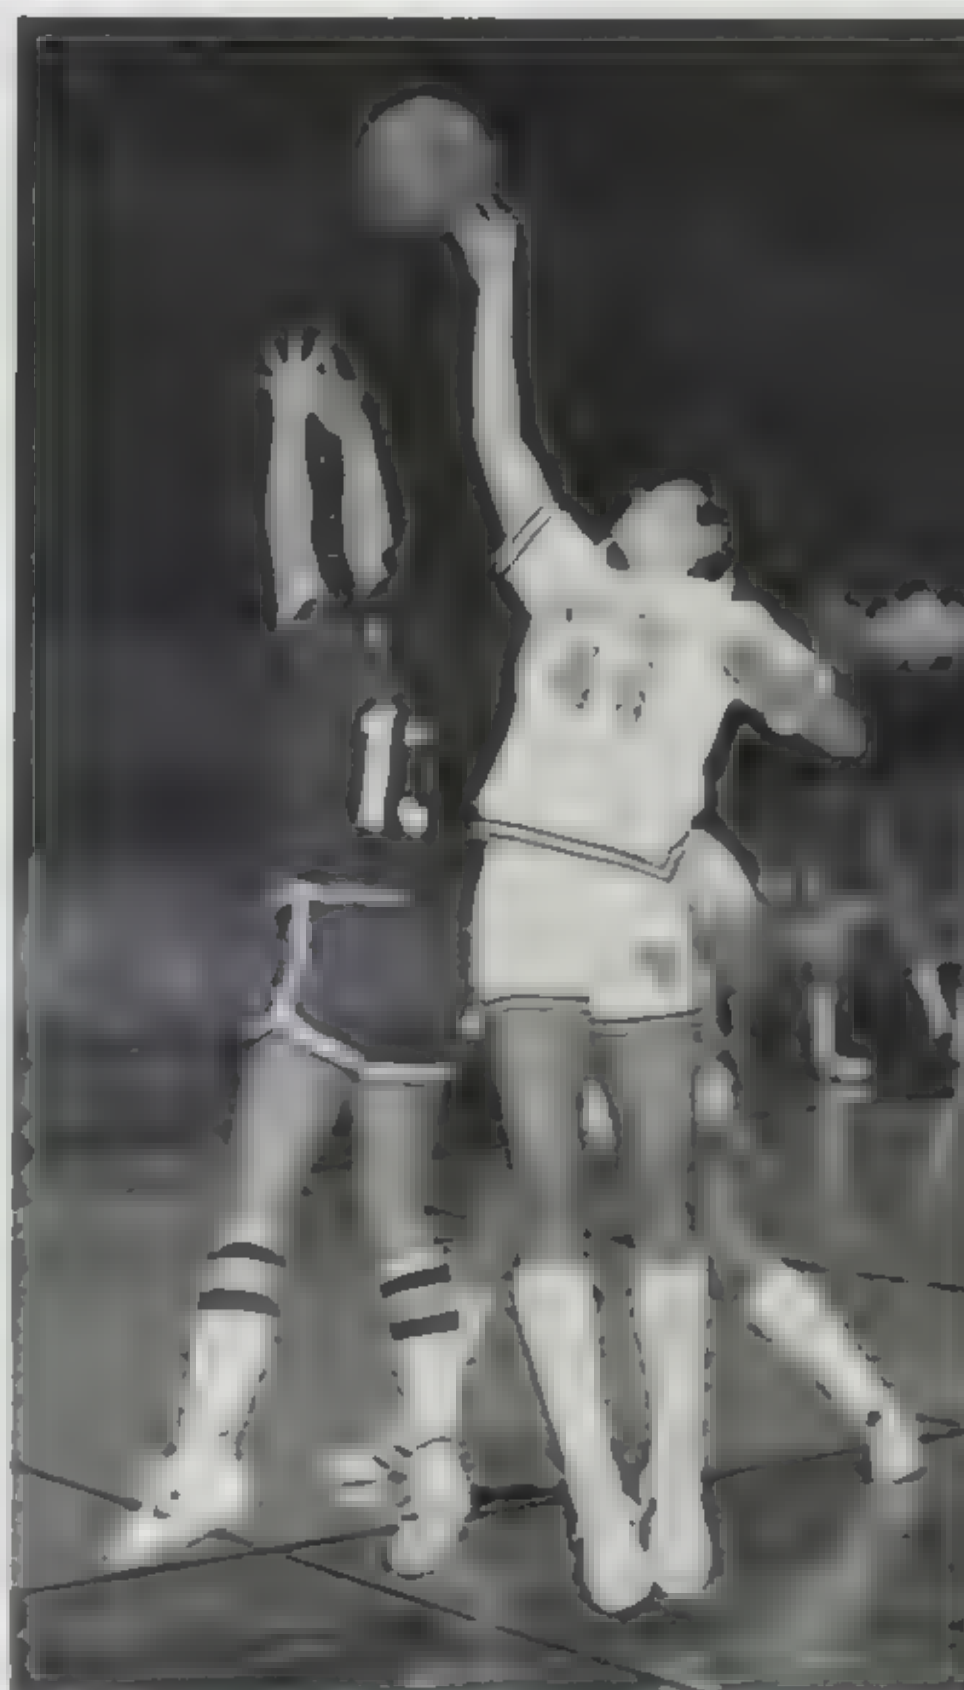

In December, the girls won the Holiday Tournament over Central Catholic. The Vikings were seeded seventh in the Conference Tournament but proved they were a much better ball team. They defeated Fairbury, Columbus Lakeview, and York which put them into the finals against Aurora. Although they fell short of a victory, they fought until the final buzzer in a very close battle.

The Lady Vikings were ready to play when it came time for District action. They defeated Milford, then York in the semi-finals, and once again they were up against Aurora. This time the Vikes led the entire game, winning 30-23. After winning the B-3 District, the Vikings were given a shot at the State Tournament.

J.V. and Frosh Come On Strong

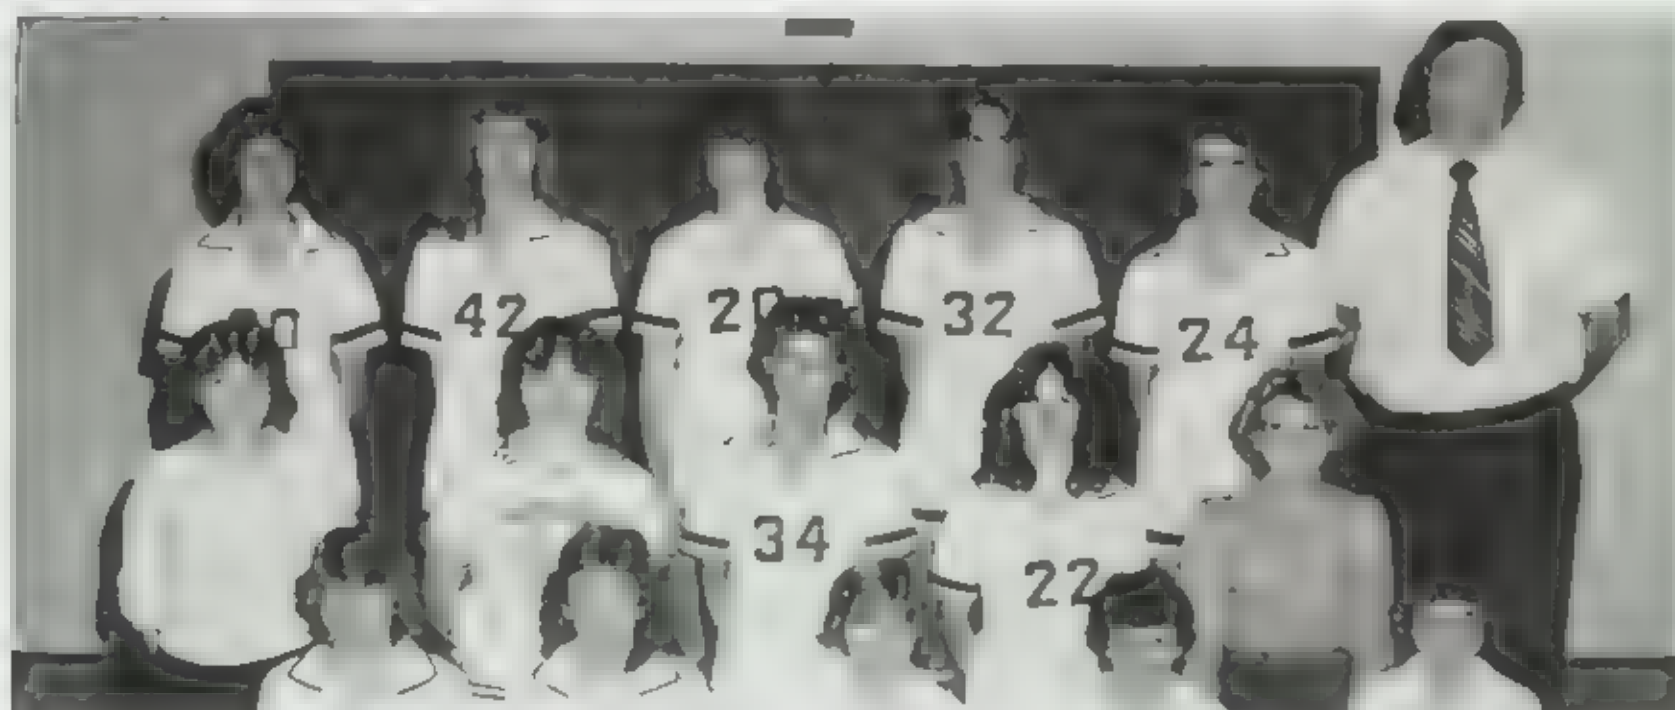

The Junior Varsity and Freshman girls' basketball teams started slowly but both ended their seasons with several victories that brought them one step closer to Varsity level basketball.

The Junior Varsity girls ended the season with an 8-6 record. The girls lost their first three games against Kearney Hastings Adams Central, and Aurora, but they showed much improvement and won eight of their last eleven games

According to Coach Steve Vertin, "The girls progressed better than any other team that I have been associated with in the three years I have been at Northwest. The girls provided teamwork and much enthusiasm. They were also a well disciplined squad."

Ending the season with some rewarding wins should provide a lot of incentive for the varsity years

Hard Work And Dedication Provide Success

Sometimes, after a fall sport championship, it's hard to motivate a team for another season of hard work and dedication in a winter sport. But such was not the case for Al Sheffield's Vikings. He took his boy's basketball team all the way to the semi-finals of the Class B State Tournament and a 23-2 record.

This year's team was one of Northwest's best and it was not only due to the superb coaching tactics of Al Sheffield and Rick Hook, but also the players themselves. Ken Brand with his unforgettable style on the basketball court gave fans a lot to cheer about. Ron Maas proved he could play just about anywhere and Dave Sims led the team on the inside. Mark Hudnall became one of the state's best sixth players while Larry Brannagan also came off the bench on more than one occasion to spark the team. Junior Jeff Baxter became the team's playmaker while Kurt

LARRY BRANNAGAN, an instrumental part of the Viking's bench strength, dishes the ball off to a teammate for an assist Northwest lost only two games: one to Class A Hastings, and the other, a heart-breaker, to eventual Class B champion Gretna in the semi-finals of the state tournament with the score of 41-53. But more than just having a great season, this team had class and this team had style and that made them number one in the hearts of all Viking fans.

Tradition Upheld by Vikings

A tradition of success was carried on through the ranks in the 1981-82 boys' basketball program as the Junior Varsity and Freshman teams proved they were worthy of the name Northwest Vikings.

This year's Junior Varsity Basketball team posted an excellent record of 13-3. Behind the J.V.'s success was Coach Rick Hook along with many hard working underclassmen. This year's junior class produced several talented players. Along with the two varsity starters there were also four starters for the Junior Varsity and three subs that were from the Junior class.

The sophomores also had their first taste of varsity-style basketball and many showed real potential as future competitors. The members of the team learned to work together and gained experience for the coming years.

The freshman boys wrapped up their season with a 9-3 record. Coach Jack Bydalek and Assistant Coach Bruce

With Junior Varsity and Freshman teams like this Viking fans can look forward to exciting Viking basketball in future years.

Grapplers Earn Much Respect

One could say that this year's Viking grapplers "earned their bread and water," which is probably what most of them ate. Not only did they take six individuals to State, but they also came home with the Class B State Runner-up trophy, the first State Wrestling trophy for Northwest.

Mike Leaman, Dan Lau, Mike Eberhardt, Don Floro, Todd Olson, and Kirk Berggren were the six men to attend State. Berggren wound up his season with the State Runner-up medal and a 25-8 record. Todd Olson, a senior, went to Lincoln with a 17-7 record and came back with a 21-8 record and placed third in the state. Mike Eberhardt and Mike Leaman both finished second, and Don Floro, even though he had a disappointing performance, still finished with a 16-4 record. Each of these individuals was a key factor to the team's success. Mike Eberhardt finished his season with 68

The Junior Varsity team also experienced a very successful season. Kenny Bronson, Dave Keil, and Rob Riedy, all freshmen, led the squad this year. Kenny had the most takedowns and best team record of 9-3. Dave and Rob also contributed with a tie for the most pins of the season, and Kenny was the runner-up in this category with a season's total of four pins.

Tracksters Run For the Gold

This year's boys' and girls track teams saw both their dreams become a reality and their hopes die as they went through a punishing season of superb competition and grueling weather.

The district track meet exemplified what the whole season had been like for the tracksters. A rainy, windy day brought the best of the area track competitors together; for some it proved a dream come true, but for others it was a nightmare.

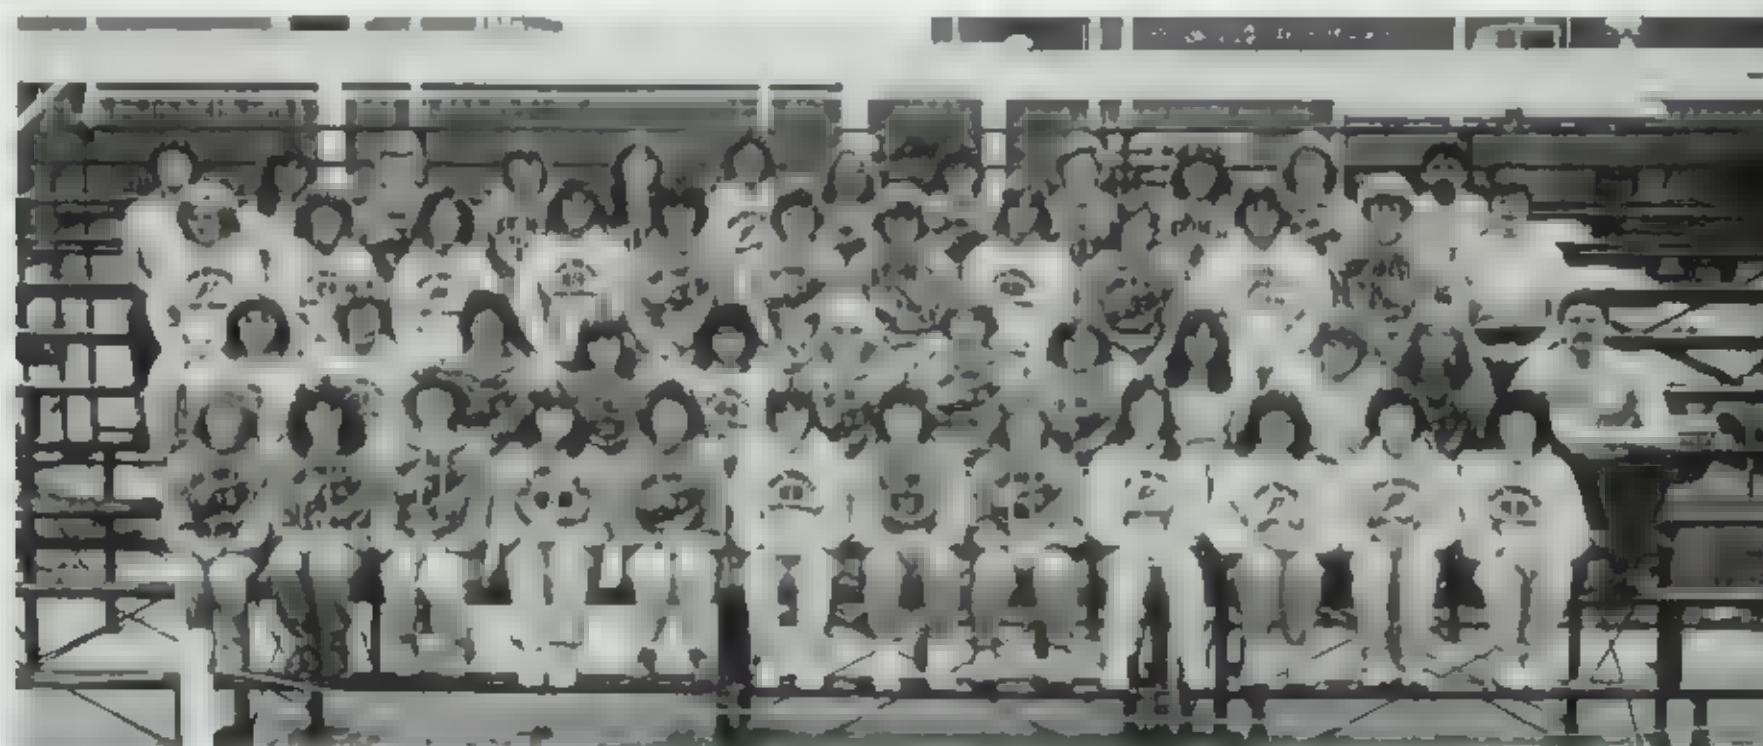

Chris Becker was the only qualifier for the girls' track team as wind and rain hampered the attempts of the 3200 meter relay team and the high jumpers. Chris then went on to the State Meet and became the pride of Northwest as she placed first in the Class B long jump.

The boys' team made the most of their situation by qualifying seven people for the State Meet and finishing third as a team at Districts.

But through all the heart-ache and happiness Northwest track teams always kept one goal in mind — run for the gold.

Golf Team Grows Stronger

Since taking over the golf program two years ago, Coach Rick Hook has put together a bigger and better team each year. This year's team was led by senior Ken Brand and Junior Tony Swanson who together with their teammates worked to make a respectable and competitive team.

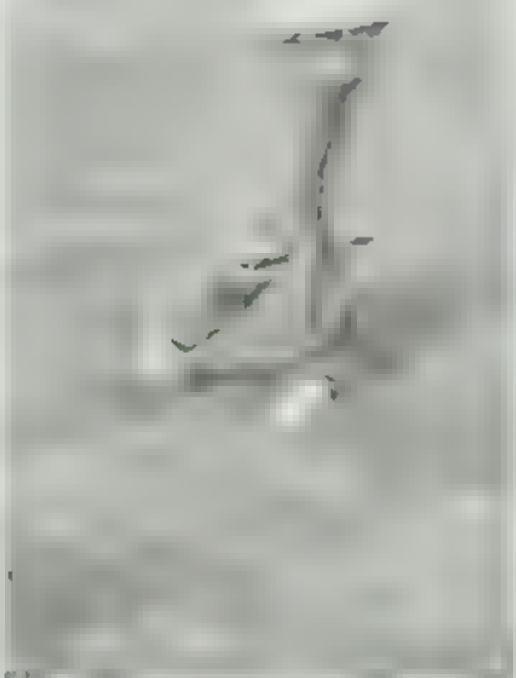

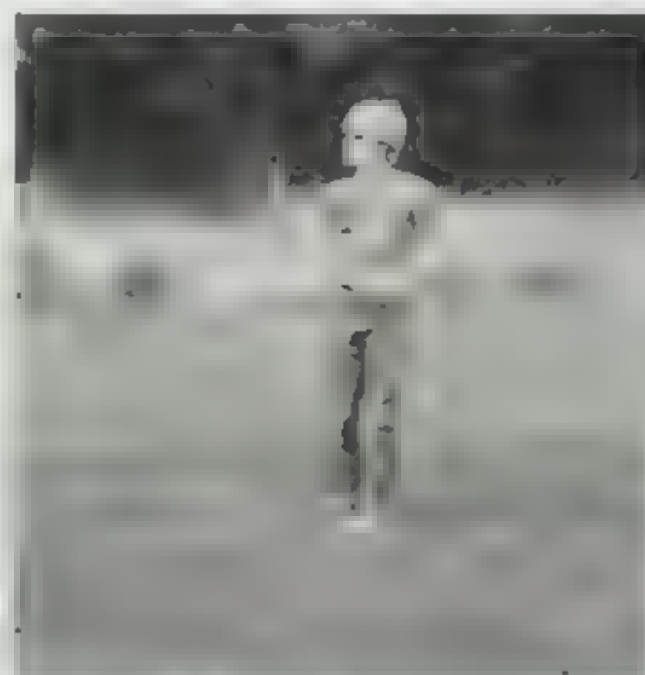

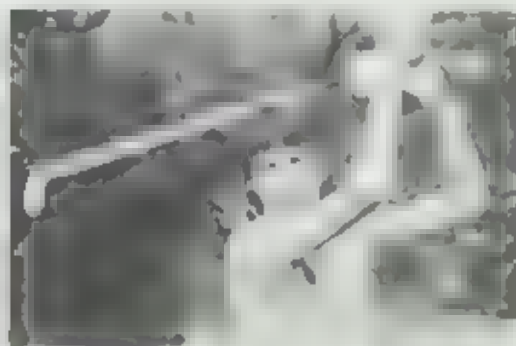

The Vikings had a 2-2 dual record and finished sixth at Districts which was a vast improvement over last year's tenth place finish.

Teachers Make the Difference

Along with the task of instructing students, Northwest teachers also had extra responsibilities. They gave their time before and after school to help on an assignment or stayed so a student could make up a test. Their night times were devoted to coaching or tackling the job of taking tickets at games and cheering the students on to many successes in both sports and music related activities. Some teachers sponsored special organizations like FBLA, DECA, FFA, FHA, or FCA.

Whatever time was left was given to writing lesson plans and tests, checking research papers and exams, writing weekly letters, and scholastic reports (downslips), and praying silently for relieved head aches.

Among the favorite activities students saw their teachers take part in throughout the year were restroom duty, lunchroom duty, parking lot duty, and seventh periods.

This year's juniors looked forward to the organization of the prom, which included selling magazines and decorations. They also plunged into the past with American history and stretched their minds with Algebra II. Some junior band and choir members had the opportunity to try out for All State; while other juniors were active in DECA and Honor Society.

Changes occurred in classmates, schedules, and study time, and school was missed for all day testing, County Government Day, and the state football championship.

Mr. Chris May and Mrs. Donna Sydow sponsored the juniors, with class officers Kurt Grimminger, President; Tracey Schmitz, Vice President; Beth Anderson, Secretary; and Greg Mora, Treasurer.

Sophs Meet New Challenges

The sophomores moved up the ladder and became more familiar with high school procedures: the hassle of getting a good parking stall for their first car and getting pink tardy passes when this car breaks down. They entered a vast world of driver's education, geometry proofs, and Mr. Hubbard's rats.

In speech classes, sophomores learned to have confidence in themselves, and they learned how to perform CPR from their required Health classes. Choir students looked forward to trying out for a major musical part, and many sophomores were seen in Typing I.

Sponsors for the sophomore class were Mrs. Sharon Hogan, and Mr. Robert Rupp. Class officers were Todd Lechner, President and Larry Haussmann, Vice President.

Entering A New World

The freshmen class came into Northwest with many confused ideas, but as the year progressed they became accustomed to Northwest traditions and, in the process, started some of their own.

During their freshmen year, they were introduced to Career Education, semester exams, and assemblies. Some freshmen experienced their first try at sewing and cooking, or their first high school dance. Math took on a whole new meaning with Algebra I. And Spanish and German offered a chance to venture into a foreign world.

Mr. Bruce Hird and Miss Shannon Zichek sponsored the freshmen with class officers David Keil, President; Julie Graham, Vice President; and Amy Chapman, Secretary-Treasurer.

Closing The Book

The 550 copies of the 1982 Viking were printed by Walsworth Publishing Company, Marceline, Missouri, with the cooperation of B. J. Smith, Regional Sales Manager, and Mike Diffenderfer, sales representative.

Editors were Pam Leckron and Tracey Trynchy. Business Manager was Clare Tande and advisor was Marti Oakeson.

Type in the book is Helvetica: 36-point for division pages, 30-point for headlines, 10-point for body copy, and 8-point for captions.

The cover was bound in black Milbank, top stamped with a four-color photograph of the student body. The theme ran in sunflower 201 and 42-point Helvetica.

All copy was written by students in the journalism class. All individual portraits of freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and faculty were furnished by Jack Martin Photography, Omaha. Group pictures were provided by Bartelt Studio.

The work it takes to put together a yearbook is more than many realize. The responsibilities Tracey and I had as co-editors were numerous: pages had to be assigned, dates scheduled to take pictures, layouts decided on, and copy written. But, somehow it managed to get done.

"Viking Pride", as a theme, speaks for itself. Northwest has accomplished so many things to be proud of this year. Winning two state championships, having numerous scholarship winners, and producing a successful musical were just a few of the outstanding achievements that the class of '82 will not soon forget. We can now say with pride, "I'm a graduate of Northwest High School."

I would like to give a special thanks to Tracey. Even though, now and then, we had a few disagreements, through it all we became good friends. I would also like to thank Mrs. Oakeson. She was always so patient and understanding, even when we lost pictures and missed deadlines. Lastly, I would like to thank the staff. At times they weren't always sure about what they were doing, but they did it anyway. They contributed their time and talent to make the book what it is.

Hugs and Kisses,
OOOOOOOOXXXXXXXXX

Pam Leckron

P.S. You dared me so here it is!!

When I accepted the responsibility of yearbook editor I had to be prepared to face and handle every obstacle that came my way. During the 1981-82 school year Pam and I have encountered many obstacles like: lost pictures, phone calls to Walsworth Publishing Company, and most of all, asking for extensions after missing our deadlines.

I never considered all the work that is necessary to complete the annual. I never thought Mrs. Oakeson, Pam, and I would spend so many hours looking through negatives to find just the right picture or reading copy that was either too short or too long. But the yearbook wasn't all headaches, there was a bright side to look on, the day we could say, "Hey- we finally sent our last shipment." Then you worry if the publishing company will understand your special instructions and wonder, when the finished product comes back, if the students will like and appreciate what you have created. All I can say, as editors, Pam and I did our best.

To the staff, thanks for being cooperative; to our sponsor, Mrs. Oakeson, I give her credit for being our backbone. I would also like to thank Kim Mott for being understanding when students were working on the yearbook instead of the paper, but most of all I would like to thank Pam Leckron for being on the other side of the table. She put up with a lot of crazy ideas from me and never criticized any of them (at least not in front of me).

Being co-editor of the Viking '82 will always be a highlight of my years at Northwest and what once started out as "Yours and Mine" is now a reality.

As always,
Tracey Trynchy

Alan,
You're a really nice guy and I'm glad I've gotten to know you.
We're going to have to raise a lot of hell before we'll do it.
Well keep partyin' and take it easy on the women, and take it easy on the women.
V. Friend Always,

Alan,

Well I really don't know what to write, because I've only been here a couple of weeks, but since the day I met you, you've been a really nice guy!

Shane

Alan,

Dad, can you believe we're Seniors? I can't but I'll try! Remember Bacotti's art class when we were SOPHOMORES? and that time you hit Brian Kelley for me, that was great! But me and Brian are BOOTLE BUDDIES
(inside joke) now. Well I guess that's all I have to remember about. Good luck in everything you do and whenever you do it with.

Love Ya

Yori Gleason

P.S. Raise HELL in Bydabute's Class.

Alan,
Can you believe it? We actually made it to our senior year!
Now if another will just let us graduate we'll have it made. Stay wild and crazy and you'll go far. Good luck in all you do.
Friends always,
Kris B.

Alan.

To a really sweet guy who helped me out alot in Carpentry class. Don't forget all the shit we use to pull on Mr. May! Stay out of trouble and keep in touch

God bless ya
Friends
Jana

Alan,

To a sweet guy who I would have liked to go out with but never did. Have as much fun this year as you can because this is the last.
We should go party sometime this year.

Friends,
Sue Bryant
